Tucker Has Two Platforms

Declaring that he has two platforms "back to the constitution" and a state platform, Harry St. George Tucker, candidate for governor, outlined both to an audience of 3700 people in Richmond Saturday night.

In explaining what he means by back to the constitution Mr. Tucker declared that he had suggested such a plank to the democratic convention at Roanoke a year ago but it was unheeded. Surely Mr. Cox would have gotten as many votes as he did had such a platform been adopted, Mr. Tucker said.

"From all ouer the country, Mr. Tucker declared, comes a cry of too much concentration of power at Washington. It ought to be stopped before our form of government is destroyed.

"Someone has introduced into congress a bill to give the federal government power to regulate the Jim Crow law. The only way such legislation can be circumvented is to go back to the constitution.

"Seventy bills have been introduced in congress in one session to regulate education in the states. If these bills are passed and the whole country is given the power to regulate education in Virginia then we may expect to see what is in vogue in many northern states —"dear little colored children going to the same classes with the sweet little white children."

"Some congressmen are advocating uniform divorce laws. This would mean federal regulation of marraige and make it possible to abolish the law which forbids marriage between whites and blacks in Virginia.

"My opponent says he does not know what back to the constitution means. Then he is ignorant of these facts and incapable of fighting the battles of the commonwealth.

"If you make me governor I promise you these will never become laws without a protest and a fight to the last ditch. I am going to ask you to help me set traps for political musk rats who are burrowing holes through the dikes of our constitution.

As the first plank in my state platform I favor increased pensions for confederate soldiers. Second, I stand for an amendment to the workmen's compensation act which will include police and fireman in that law. Third, I hope to have the pleasure of asking the legislature to appoint a commissioner to report a scientific system of taxation for the whole state instead of our patch work system. I stand for a budget system. Four, I favor penitentiary reform. Fifth I stand for good roads but there are too many uncertain elements to talk intelligently on them at this time. Sixth, I am for good schools. Seventh, until economic conditions change I will not recommend increase in the tax rate for anything. Eighth I oppose the abolition of the primary law.

Mr. Tucker referred to Senator Trinkle's stand on the question of roads and said it was destructive not constructive, and backward not forward, the law which he criticises is one of his own making, Mr. Tucker says because it was passed by the senate with his approval.

In discussing the uncertain elements in the road question Mr. Tucker also stated that the present revenues of the state which now amount to about $18,500,000 probably will be raised to over $20,000,000 by the reassessment next year.

Would Loan 50 Million to Federal Farm Board

A bill authorizing the Federal Reserve Board to loan from its accumulated interest fund the sum of $50,000,000 to the Federal Farm Loan Board for aiding farmers was introduced today by Representative Brand Democrat, Georgia.

What's the Difference

Seven carloads of tobacco recently brought the growers more than fifty cents a pound in the Canadian Province of Ontario, where 80% of the growers have signed the contract and begun the practice of co-operative marketing, according to a letter from E. F. Currin, of Kingsville, Ontraio

Those unorganized tobacco growers of Virginia who averaged less than 30 cents for their tobacco in the past disastrous season, and have failed to sign the marketing contract of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, should read the following letter.

The Canadian Tobacco
Growers' Co-operative Company Limited
Kingsville, Ontario,
March 31st, 1921.

Growers and Packers
of Canadian Leaf
Mr. T. Y. Allen,
Skipwith, Va.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 24th inst received, in reply will say the Co-operative Company has made a sale, shipped seven cars last week, the price was a little better than fifty cents per pound average and the sale consisted of three of the poorest grades they have, have not shipped any of the better grades yet.

The present outlook for the company is very bright, as they think they have an open market for the entire crop, at a reasonable price, and the farmers continue to sign up.

They have opened three new branch grading stations—you can judge from this that it is progressing fine.

We will be glad to furnish you with any information possible, any time. I remain,

Yours very truly,
E F. Currin.

Mr. T. Y. Allen, of Skipwith, Va., furnishes the following explanation:

"Mr. E F. Currin owns a farm near Oxford North Carolina, is now in the employ of a Tobacco Growers' Association selling their tobacco co-operatively. I have had two letters from him since the 15th of February. In his first letter he said that eighty per cent of the Tobacco Growers had signed the contracts. The above letter will explain what is being accomplished".

Ten thousand Virginia planters have signed the marketing contract of the Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association. In nine counties of the State from fifty to eighty per cent of the Growers have signed.

The recent mass meeting in South Boston, at which two thousand Tobacco Growers overflowed from the Princess Theater into Edmondson's Warehouse, and interested in the mammoth meeting planned for Pittsylvania Growers on May the 14th when Aaron Sapiro is to speak in Danville indicate that the largest tobacco growing counties of the State will lead in signing up a large majority of their growers

Evergreen

The play, Kentucky Belle, which was given here Saturday night was quite a success, a nice sum was realized and the play was enjoyed by all.

Our school closed the 27. We will miss our teachers, Misses Inge and Wagner, not only in the school work, but in the social circle and we hope to have them back next session The closing exercise of the school was held over the Farmers store. It was a fine program which spoke well for the teachers and pupils, it showed they had not been asleep on their job.

Miss Frankie Rush, who has been visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jennings here has returned to her home.

Mrs Emma Bly, of Lynchburg, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jennings last week-end.

Mrs. Hunter Martin and Mr J. L. Clark are on the sick list, we hope to see them out again soon.

Miss Aletha Doss was the guest of Mrs. J. R Conner last week.

Miss Ethlene Lee is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lee.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this method of thanking my friends and neighbors for their kindness shown me during the illness and death of my wife.

Buckingham

The public school examinations held here on April 29th and 30th were attended by the following prospective teachers to wit: Misses Lelia Cunningham, Wingina, Va., Ruby L Jones, Andersonville, Va, Ethel M. Childress, Buckingham, Va., Mary Morgan, Andersonville, Va, Georgia Sheppard, Buckingham, Va, Cammie Anderson, Andersonville, Va., Constance Jones, Andersonville, Va., Florence Anderson, Andersonville, Va, Mattie Hughes, Midway Mills, Annie W. Marks, Curdeville, Garnett Agee, Dillwyn, Susie Pierce, Katriue, Messrs Robert Hall, Greyburn, Hyram Buckner, Katrine. There were six colored women and one colored man who tried the examinations. It is currently reported here that one of the lady teachers in Maysville District is soon to be married, but I call no names as there is many a slip between the cup and the lip Mr. H Turner and the principal of Gold Hill school both came to the examinations held on Saturday and took the reading coarse.

Tucker is the name of one of the candidates for Governor and Tucker is the name of one of the candidates for the legislature and the names are often confusing for instance we hear of some man saying his precinct will give a certain majority for Tucker and it is repeated and the impression gets about that the man is for one Tucker when he is for the other Tucker.

Professor Groseclose took the boys of the agricultural department of the high school here to "Curl's Neck" farm below Richmond on a tour of inspection last week and he says his boys can now compete with experienced men in judging live stock. He reports the Curl's Neck farm in fine condition with approved up to date machinery & c. Mr. Groseclose has also taken these boys to Ryan's farm in Nelson county.

The closing exercises of the Greyburn school took place last Friday night with an interesting program for the pupils and nice refreshments served to the patrons and visitors.

On Friday afternoon of this week the closing exercises of St. Andrew's school will take place and there will be a lawn party and address to the invited guests and patrons of the school.

A package came through the mail to this place containing what is now supposed to be the remains of an infant child the package is said to have come from New York addressed to a colored woman here.

Miss Bessie Lee Patteson and Mr. R B. Hudgins were married in Richmond last week and the marriage was not announced at the time because it was not known here even to the closest friends of the contracting parties, but it is with pleasure that the announcement of this happy event is now made and knowing each one as I do I confidently predict a happy married life for each one has a lovely disposition, kind and considerate concientious, and amiable, we can all say they both are, and we bespeak for them the loving consideration they so well deserve at the hands of their many true friends in this county.

Miss Roma Garnett came home to spend the wee end, she is teaching in Richmond.

Mrs. N. A. McKay is expected to visit her old home here the ast of this month.

Mrs. Joel W. Jenkins Jr.

It is with deep sorrow that we chronicle the death of Mrs Joel W Jenkins, Jr, which occurred April 26th. Mrs. Jenkins was Miss Ethel Haley Hamilton, daughter of Mr. S. T. and the late Mrs S T. Hamilton, of Covington Va, she was widely and lovingly known throughout this county. She was popular as a teacher in our public schools, having taught in the schools of Hollywood and Hixburg where she won a host of friends.

She was married to Mr. Joel W. Jenkins, Jr, June 4th 1919 and since then Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins have resided at the old Jenkins home a few miles east of Appomattox C. H She was a consecrated christian woman, a member of New Hope Baptist church and greatly loved by all who knew her.

All that medical skill and loving hands could do was done but God knew best and took her home. She and her new born babe sleep in the same grave in the Jenkins' cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. A. Gornon, and despite the threatening weather a large concourse of friends paid their last tribute of respect to this amiable young woman

Our sympathy goes out in deepest sorrow for her young and devoted husband. Just one year ago, death, in a few hours' notice claimed this young man's father, who for years was his only companion. The blending of their lives was something remarkable May our gracious Heavenly Father comfort and sustain this bereaved husband, who is now broken hearted Mrs Jenkins was in her 27th year.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Tommie, Martin and Joel Covington, Julian and Harry Jenkins and Paul Cawthorn

The flower bearers were Misses Mary Covington, Eula M. Burke, Helen Covington, Lilly M Whitehead, Louise Whitehead, Gladys Smith, Laura Abbitt, Mary L Bryant and Crystal Turnes H which does the trick at one trip.

He has to turn around at the ends 560 times when he walks and plows, when he rides he only turns 280 times.

Allowing ½ of a minute for each turn he saves when riding we have two and one-third hours' time each day he plows instead of turns.

Let us show you an Oliver Cultivator. It's economical.

Let the Wild Cats Alone!

Every now and then somebody calls to ask for our opinion of some get-rich-quick scheme in which he or she has been asked to invest. For several years past the country has been flooded with bonanzas (?), and many people, to their sorrow, have put money into them.

Occasionally some good but misguided man who has already bought a "wild cat" stock, calls on us seeking information. We like always to be encouraging, but on such occasions we feel very much as we imagine the doctor does who has to tell his patient the worst.

It is for the reason that there are very bad as well as very good securities that we advise prospective investors in any issue to investigate it thoroughly.
